

How do we observe plants & measure climate change locally?
 How are plants indicators of climate change?

